For information, we used the file “UCAS June deadline 2023 – Domicile.csv” available on this page : <https://www.ucas.com/undergraduate-statistics-and-reports/ucas-undergraduate-releases/ucas-undergraduate-applicant-releases-2023-cycle/2023-cycle-applicant-figures-30-june-deadline>.

We only used for this report.

- Question number one :
 - Sub question A:

We can see the number of applicants increasing between 2006 and 2010 and he is stable between 2012 and 2023.

○ Sub question B:

Between 2006 and 2015, the number of applicants increasing and after, he's stable between 2016 and 2020. But, because of the Brexit, the applicants decreasing between 2021 and 2023.

○ Sub question C:

Generally, the numbers of applicants are increasing. But between 2015 and 2017, It's stable.

- Question number 2:

Of course, the applicants from England are largely dominant. But we are surprised by the space occupied by the country not in the EU. It's normal because it concerned all country without EU.

- Question number 3:

For metropolitan France, we have a little decreasing applicants but it's not symptomatic.

On the other hand, we have a impressive decreasing applicants for the others country.

- Question number 4 (question 4 in the doc) :

In June 2023, Ireland had the most applicants to UK university with 5390 applicants.

- Question number 5 (question 5 in the doc) :

In June 2023, it's Ireland again with 3800 women applicants.

- Question number 6 (question 6 in the doc) :

Generally, there are more women than men who apply and these applicants are mostly 18 years old. The graph remains constant and there is no remarkable change.

- Question number 7 (question 7 in the doc)

In these graphs, we can see an increase over time. As in Australia, more women than men apply. We can see that there were more applicants between 2006 and 2014 who were between 19 and 24 years old. However, starting 2018, it is the 18-year-olds who are applying the most.
